BOOST PENNY PLAN

Citizens Urged to Patronize Only Gas Stations That Collect One Cent Extra for Roads

N. Buckner and Charles O'Connor, North Carolina road men, were here today, reporting that they drove all the way here from Berea yesterday over the worst of the bad roads and that they did not once have to resort to other power than their own although there had been almost eighteen hours of almost steady rain. They believe that the road will be passable for all cars in the future who wish to go that way.

Crews are at work all along the way continually putting the bad way putting the bad stretches in better condition. Contractors begin work Monday, Mr. Buckner says, surfacing the very bad mile and a half just this side of Livingston so that it will be in excellent condition within the next sixty days.

Mr. O'Connor is particularly anxious that the people in this section fully appreciate the value of the one cent gasoline plan which it is proposed to finance these roads.

Unless every one gets behind this plan, he said, by refusing to buy from any filling stations between Cumberland Gap and Cincinnati who do not collect the extra one cent for roads, the thing cannot be financed properly. Moreover, he said, outside concerns and places which this section seeks so anxiously to interest in this route, will not support it if they find out that the people who live along the road do not.

At the meeting in Harboursville Wednesday, he said, one hundred and ten men agreed by resolution to patronize only those stations which collect the extra one cent for the roads. This, he feels should be the attitude of all public-spirited citizens.

Mr. Buckner and Mr. O'Connor both spoke of the statement of Monte J. Golbe, Cincinnati banker and well-known financier, who said he thought the one-cent gasoline plan an ideal one, the best co-operative plan he knew of.

Daily News Want Ads Pay

A striking example of the pulling power of Daily News classified want ads and particularly of the territory placed in reach of patrons of this service is furnished by the ad which J. Carter carried for the sale of office fixtures. In one day he received two replies from Arthur, two from Harrogate, one from Tazewell, one from New Tazewell and one from Cumberland Gap. During the same period he received seven replies from city readers.

ARIZONA LIFTS BLOCKADE

Motorists Held Up, Fearing Spread of Cattle Disease
By Associated Press.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Apr. 19.—Governor Hunt today lifted the foot and mouth disease blockade at Yuma in order to permit the passage into state of approximately eight hundred motorists reported in a pitiful condition as the result of being held on the California side of the State line without camping equipment or sufficient food. Motorists will be fumigated and inspected. The situation assumed threatening proportions last night when some of the motorists threatened to rush the guards on the Arizona side. The governor was afraid motorists would carry disease into the state.

Florida Tourists To Be Notified That Route A Is Passable Whole Way

News that route A is now passable all the way will be hailed with delight by hundreds of Florida tourists who are seeking a nearer return route to their homes in the middle west and points north of here.

F. H. Whalin who has returned from a visit to St. Petersburg, Fla., reports that his Kentucky auto license tag was the signal for numerous inquiries regarding the roads in this section. Having at that time no definite information concerning the Harboursville Corbin stretch of road, he promised to write them of the conditions. He will also notify the routing office at St. Petersburg that the road is now entirely passable, even in bad weather.

Some of the tourists have been returning to their homes via Nashville, going 1200 miles out of their way because of the road conditions which have previously existed in this section.

"We are not interested in your town or any other town," the tourist headquarters told him. "We are interested in tourists. If you can show us that the road through your section is good all the way we will gladly route thousands of tourists that way."

Assail Pacifism Today at Methodist Conference

LEGION SPEAKER

Says Anti-war Attitude Is Cowardly and Communistic, Without Religion or Patriotism

By Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Apr. 19.—Robert A. Adams of Indianapolis, national judge advocate of the American Legion, before the Methodist students' conference here today delivered an address in favor of preparedness and against pacifist movements. He said dangerous doctrines had crept into universities and churches recently which had for their purpose reducing patriotic America neither to pusillanimous cowardice or anarchistic communism, in which neither religion or patriotism had a place. He advocated preparedness on the theory that a country "good enough to live in is good enough to fight for, yes, even good enough to die for."

FOREST PROTECTION WEEK APRIL 21 TO 27

Governor Fields in Proclamation Asks Kentuckians for Observance

By Associated Press.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Apr. 19.—Gov. Fields today set aside next week as Forest Protection Week, in a proclamation reading:

"In view of the appalling losses sustained by our country and our State, during the past several years, through devastating forest fires—more than three-fourths which can be attributed to human carelessness.

"And realizing, with a degree of alarm that Kentucky is annually losing vastly more timber than the state is producing, and that this situation has maintained for number of years, past,

"Therefore in harmony with the wishes of our president, Honorable Calvin Coolidge, and in compliance with his earnest request, I, W. J. Fields, governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby proclaim and set apart the week of April 21-27 as Forest Protection Week.

"I urge the press of our state, and every civic and philanthropic organization within her borders, to bring before our people the great importance of the problems of reforestation and preventing forest fires—problems of grave concern at the present time in view of our serious shortage of timber and the inaccessibility of our few remaining forests. I sincerely trust that our people will give earnest thought and purposeful consideration to these questions, to the end that every patriotic citizen of our beloved Kentucky, Kentucky will give diligent heed to the prevention of forest fires, and that at some time during the week will plant at least one tree, remembering that 'he who plants a tree plants a hope'—thus serving one of the world's great needs.

"I further designate and set apart Friday, April 25, as Arbor Day, and do hereby request that every man and woman, boy and girl, at the office, in the home, in school, whatever the business or profession or vocation, will make proper observance of this day by planting trees or shrubs, or flowers, either in the garden or yard, upon the public school grounds or playgrounds, court house yards, around our churches, or any spot that needs to be beautified or made more attractive.

"Let us unite our efforts in making this a week well worth while to ourselves, and to those who shall come after us.

"Given under my hand this fifteenth day of April in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and Twenty-Four, and in the one hundred and thirty-second year of the commonwealth.

"W. J. FIELDS, Governor Kentucky."

Youths' Companion Cover is to Depict Cumberland Gap

The historic milestone cover that appears on the May 1 issue of the youth's companion is a graceful and unusual tribute to the state of Virginia. Instead of choosing a single incident in the history of the state, the publishers selected something of greater moment; the contribution that Virginia blood has made to the west. The cover depicts Cumberland Gap as it appeared in the days of Daniel Boone. It is printed in full color and carries the following text:

"Through Cumberland Gap the great southern gateway of the Alleghenies, Virginia, the mother of pioneers as of Presidents, sent her children to the discovery and subjugation of the west. Dowered with courtesy, tolerance and hospitality as well as with courage and self-reliance, they took with them both the graces and the sterner virtues of the old Dominion."

LEGION ENDORSES INSURANCE BONUS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Apr. 19.—The American Legion today endorsed the insurance soldiers' bonus bill taken up by the Senate. In a message to each senator, Commander Quinn asked that no attempt be made on the floor to amend the bill. Quinn mentioned specifically the proposed amendment by the finance committee of Democrats or full cash payment option and expressed the belief if adopted the chances of the bill becoming a law would be endangered.

Quick Adjustment In Poore Fire Yesterday

Quick action was had in the case of the Poore fire Friday morning which occurred about 1:30 a. m. Ben P. Gray, one of the adjusters for the Southern Adjustment bureau being in the city, he was driven to the scene of the fire by John Chesney of the J. C. Manning company at 7:30 a. m. The papers were completed and the loss adjusted within an hour.

Mr. Chesney states that he knows of only one instance in his experience that was superior to this, and this service was given by one of their companies at the home office in New York. It seems that their home office is on the tenth floor of one of the big skyscrapers in New York, and one of their insured whose office was on the 20th floor above fell out of the window one morning and as he passed the 10th floor window the cashier for the company handed him his accidental death check for $5000. His widow cashed the check before noon.

Miss Jannita Hoskins has as her guest for the week-end Miss Alma Rev. and Mrs. Arthur R. Price have moved into the rectory.

No Masked Meeting Is Lawful In Pennsylvania

Associated Press

EDENSBURG, Pa., April 19.—Amplifying his decision that masked assemblies were unlawful in Pennsylvania, Judge John E. Evans ruled that it is equally unlawful for citizens to oppose such assemblies by taking the law into their own hands. The ruling came after a hearing upon a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of thirteen citizens of Lilly, charged with murder and riot in connection with the fatal disorder there between villagers and visiting Ku Klux klansmen. Decision in the case was reserved and the thirteen men remanded to jail.

Confectionery Has Clever Easter Window

Perhaps the most interesting specialty of the season was the Easter display of live rabbits in the Green Parrot window yesterday and today. That the children appreciated the appropriateness of the novelty was evidenced by the crowds that flocked around the window and the rapidly with which the rabbits were sold.

The entire window was the setting for a bountiful Easter display with eggs, rabbits, chickens and all of the other novelties of the season, each with its particular qualifying characteristic of beauty or edibility. Next to the window, then, in a glass compartment all their own, were the little live Easter bunnies themselves hiding their faces in each other's fur to shut out the rude glances of the public.

EASTER LILIES

(By Mabel W. Phillips)

In the vast aisles of His temple,
Where a hundred soft lights glow,
Pouring through the stained-glass windows

O'er lilies pure as snow;
He is walking midst the silence, Listening blossoms bow their heads

To His voice so low and gentle
That a benediction sheds.

In the dim aisles of His temple,
When the lights have ceased to glow,
He still lingers midst the fragrance
Gently pacing to and fro;
Hark! the anthem of the angles Wake the dawn, for Christ is near;

Vibrant is each tender flower,
For the night is left of fear.

In the hushed aisles of His temple,
As the organ music grows,
He is standing midst the lilies,
See the light that o'er them flow?

Safe they rest upon His bosom
Faithless through eternity,
Stooping with the lamb held gently
Even thus He stoops to me.

EASTER HATS--HOW STYLES CHANGE OVER 60 YEARS!

MISS 1864

MISS 1874

MISS 1884

MISS 1894

The hat that knocked 'em dead in 1864. The Civil War girl wore an Easter bonnet with a crown trimmed in ostrich feathers and a few flowers. The brim was white silk underneath and black taffeta above.

Miss 1874 found feathers just the thing for Easter, too. A soft burst of white ostrich plumes cascaded down a saucy brim of dark straw, with just enough blim to throw a shadow over the brows.

Only by the widest stretch of the imagination could you call Miss 1884's head adornment a hat. A tiny crown of silk and lace and a few flowers—such was the prevailing style in Easter bonnets in those days.

The tiny hat found favor for a decade or more among the belles of the late 19th century. Miss 1894 is wearing a white silk creation to match her Easter costume, which was white throughout—even the gloves, shoes, parasol and veil.

MISS 1914

MISS 1919

MISS 1924

This style of Easter hat held the stage in 1904, when croquet was a favorite pastime and high pompa-dours were in vogue. A mere suggestion of feathers, an abundance of flowers and a wide brim of white, edged in black velvet.

Only 10 years ago—but Miss 1914 looks out from beneath a hat that would look strange today. Ostrich feathers more than held their own from Civil War days to the outbreak of the World War, as can be seen in this Easter creation.

Miss 1919 was not heartless, but someone killed a bird to adorn her close-fitting hat of black straw. You will notice that, like the girl of today, Miss 1919 modestly hid her ears from view. Now we make the final jump and come—to date! Here is the hat that was worn in Florida in 1924, and will be seen in southern cities in April and May.

What in the south has tended a little "flush the season," but even in 1924 wore an Easter hat of white silk.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PLANS REVIVAL

Ashland Pastor in Charge of Big Campaign Which Starts April 27

Sunday, April 27, will witness the opening of revival services at the Christian church under the direction of the Rev. D. W. Scott of Ashland, Ky., in Louisville, Tenn., Ky.

evangelist, assisted by Miss Kathryn Warren, of Danville, song leader, and the Rev. A. B. Reeves, of Louisville, Ky. The Rev. A. B. Reeves, of Louisville, Ky., is a member of the Christian church in Ashland, Ky., where he is now pastor. In three and a half years at Ashland he has more than doubled the membership of the church, and built the Sunday school to be the largest in several hundred in Ashland. In that time he has added over six hundred to the church. He has built up a class of young men from three to over four hundred. This is the largest class of young men in Kentucky. During his ministry at Ashland, the church building, which was already one of the best in the state, has been compelled to make an addition, and is now planning a second and larger educational building to take care of the class of men. Their aim is to build for two hundred men. Miss Warren is exceptionally gifted, a leader of song service and has just returned from New York where she has been studying voice. She will conduct the song service at each meeting during the revival.

Work of repairing and overhauling the Salvation Army home was finished yesterday. The work included a general strengthening of the building, new foundations, new floors, stairway at the front and general overhauling of the upstairs room. A special Easter service will be held in the remodeled building tomorrow. Each child who attends will be presented with an Easter egg.

The national wealth of the United States is estimated at $187,729,000, 000 or $1165 for each man, woman and child in the country.

The Resurrection

- 1 And when the Sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.
- 2 And very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.
- 3 And lo, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came, and rolled back the stone from the door of the sepulchre.
- 4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.
- 5 And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.
- 6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen: he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.
- 7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall you see him as he saith unto you. Mt. Mark, 16.

Duel of Hoofs Between East and West is Derby Promise

THREE EARLY SPRING FAVORITES TO WIN THE KENTUCKY DERBY: WISE COUNSELLOR, HOPE OF THE WEST (AT THE TOP); SARAZEN, UNBEATEN IN 1923 (IN THE MIDDLE) AND FLEET ST. JAMES (AT THE BOTTOM).

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Apr. 19.—The golden anniversary of the Kentucky Derby will be celebrated this year when this historic race is run at Churchill Downs, Louisville, May 17.

This race, one of the first stakes to be run in America, is rich in sentiment and a victory is greatly cherished by every American owner of a thoroughbred.

The field that will go to the post in this year's Derby is one of the finest and most interesting that ever started in that event.

East and west again meet in the Derby and once again the east holds the trump hand in Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt's Sarazen and in George D. Widener's St. James.

West's Strongest Bet
The ace of the western contingent is J. S. Ward's Wise Counsellor.

Sarazen, a grand-looking colt, went through the 1923 season without a defeat, registering 10 straight victories.

Wise Counsellor won the Kentucky Jockey Club stakes and $60,000 while St. James stopped all the two-year-olds last year in winning the Belmont futurity and $89,000.

Sarazen is the early favorite for the Derby, being quoted at 6 to 1.

Runs a Record Mile
The Derby winner this year will not only pull down $50,000 but a fine gold cup.

Wise Counsellor started five times as a two-year-old, earning four brackets and being second to Energy in his first race of the season.

The Western Derby hope was at his best in winning the Jockey Club stakes at Louisville, stepping the mile distance in 1:37 2-5, with an impost of 122 pounds. Incidentally this was the fastest mile ever recorded by a two-year-old.

Wise Counsellor might even have beaten this record but for an unfortunate circumstance. It was discovered after the race that his tongue was over the bit and the horse, therefore, had been under heavy pull most of the distance.

STATE TROOPS CAN'T EVICT COAL MINERS

Soldiers to Keep Order, Not to Eject

NOW UP TO COURTS

Attorney General Issues Letter Calling Kehoe's Attention to Injunction Regarding Matter

By Associated Press

FRANKFORT, Ky., Apr. 1.—Kentucky National Guardsmen on duty at the Straight Creek camp of the Liberty Coal and Coke Company, in Bell county, following recent disorders there, are without authority to evict forcibly occupants of the company's houses, Frank Daugherty, state's attorney general has ruled. This opinion was contained in a letter addressed to Adjutant General James Kehoe.

General Kehoe had informed Mr. Daugherty that in his opinion disorders at Straight Creek were caused by persons occupying company houses, who had violated their lease, with the company.

General Kehoe asked whether guardsmen, in order to prevent lawlessness, could legally arrest such persons as trespassers and subject them to forcible eviction.

Mr. Daugherty pointed out that the company recently had obtained a federal injunction prohibiting interference with operation of the mines. As a result of that action, he held, the company must appeal to Federal Court for relief for any violation of the injunction.

The situation at mines all over the state is very quiet, he said.

The attorney general's letter read: "I have your communication of April 16 in which, at length, you set out the conditions of rumored lawlessness said to exist upon the, and around the mines of the Liberty Coal and Coke company on Straight Creek, in Bell county, and also the fact that troops had been sent there consisting of 295 men and fourteen officers for the purpose of maintaining law and order.

"In the third paragraph of this letter you say that it is your opinion that the lawlessness and disorder has been brought about by persons living on the land and in the houses of the Liberty Coal and Coke company, who have violated the terms of their lease, a copy of which you enclosed with your letter; that upon notification, these miners have refused to vacate these houses; that troops will have to remain at that point and that the expense to the state will be great.

"You request, upon the board grounds of military necessity, a decision from me as to whether the troops sent there for the purpose of maintaining their legal rights in arresting these parties as trespassers, and forcibly removing their possessions from the property of the Liberty Coal and Coke company.

"I would say, in reply to this question, that neither you nor the troops stationed at this place have any legal right to eject these men from these houses, nor to forcibly remove their possessions therefrom.

Let Law Eject Them

"This company has its legal remedies to eject these miners, and I do not deem it any part of the duty of the troops sent for the purpose of maintaining law and order to assist the company in regaining possession of these houses, which have been leased by it to these miners, as it is strictly a matter that must be prosecuted by the coal company in courts of proper jurisdiction.

"In my opinion that court alone has control of the situation and must regulate the conduct of those that have been enjoined by aid order of injunction. It is well known if it become necessary the judge of the Federal Court has ample power to enforce such and every order made by him as judge of said court, and therefore I reaffirm what I said to you in the first part of this letter as far as the troops are concerned. They are not in any way authorized to be the judge or the jurors of matters affecting either the coal company on the one hand or the striking miners on the other."
